

PORTLAND PORT UK

CARGO

The deep, sheltered waters of Portland Harbour partnered with over 2000 linear metres of operational berthing present the ideal opportunity to reduce operational cost and streamline any supply chain.

AGRIBULK

Portland Port is already host to a major supplier in the AgriBulk industry. The ports partnership with this supplier has enabled it to develop an experienced stevedoring task force for such commodities. With its rural hinterland Portland is now ideally placed to further develop new opportunities in this sector.

RECYCLATES

The ports close proximity to the English Channel and its central location on the south coast of the UK make it the ideal location for the export of recycled materials. With an infrastructure suited to the export of recyclates and short journey time to continental Europe, the uncongested waters of Portland Port can ensure a quick turnaround time on recyclate exports.

HAZARDOUS CARGO

The port holds the necessary licences and is well experienced in handling hazardous cargo. Portland Port has a growing reputation in the explosives sector, and is the ideal gateway on the south coast for handling this specialised product.

STEVEDORING & PLANT

Flexible stevedoring services are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, by arrangement.

Mobile crange from 50 tonne SWL upwards is available to hire.

The port also has a 150 tonne mobile harbour crane capable of lifts up to 40 tonnes.

Various sized forklifts and other cargo handling plant is also available to hire.

STORAGE

Portland Port holds permitted development rights over a number of areas within the dock estate allowing for the construction of a range of storage solutions. In addition, there are existing storage facilities available for lease.

HM CUSTOMS CLEARANCE FACILITY

The port is HM Customs Phase II inventory linked. The Direct Trader Interface, 'Cuslink', supplied by Pentant, was installed in 2009 as part of our HM Customs Wharf Approval Renewal and was first used for a liner service to St Helena
